Introduction

Horse Campline is a company, established in March 2020, focused on objectives and achieving results in the equestrian field.

Horse Campline is governed by four areas of operation that it believes are the way to be a national and international reference with regard to working with the Lusitano horse and equestrian sport.

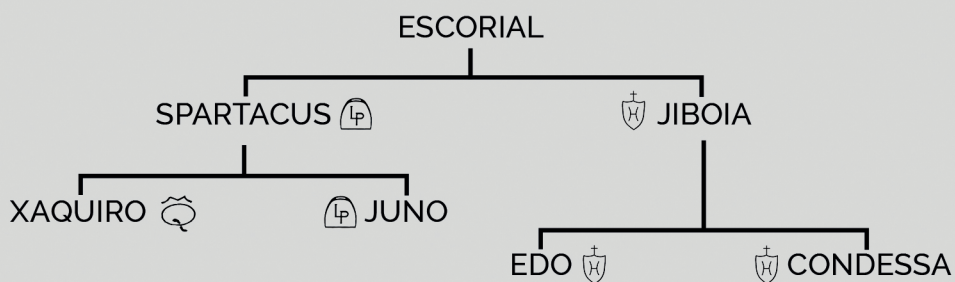

Being a national heritage and one of the only truly pure breeds with ideal characteristics for the sport, make the Lusitano horse the animal of choice for the company. Horse Campline believes that the Lusitano Purebred is a genetic enhancer for other breeds and for this reason the company owns unique stallions and is using sophisticated biotechnologies to achieve this goal.

Olympic sport is another key point for Horse Campline, and the company has drawn up a sports plan with the aim of being present at the next 4 Olympic Games with riders from different continents. But to achieve such ambitious goals, it is important that riders are focused on their career as high performance athletes. To achieve this, Horse Campline will be a pioneer in the professional management of equestrian athletes.

In this catalogue you may find stallions of great genetic load that are enhancers for other breeds as well as stallions that are excellent athletes proven by their results in the discipline of dressage.

Escorial Horse Campline

LUSITANO STALLION

Escorial is an twelve-year-old stallion with a 4 stars' recommendation for Models and Gaits by the Association of Lusitano Purebred.

He is a stallion with already 276 offspring registered and with a great increase in the following years, which will turn him into one of the best breeders of the Lusitano breed.

Escorial is a stallion that has proven to be a great dressage athlete. Although with a very recent sports career, he is competing already at a Grand Prix level and scoring +70%.

Escorial is included in Horse Campline's Olympic Project and is paired with the Brazilian rider João Vitor Oliva. Their results as one make them strong contenders to win a spot at Tokyo Olympic Games.

Fogoso Horse Campline

LUSITANO STALLION

Fogoso is a remarkable Lusitano, born at Torres Vaz Freire stud farm.

This stallion is son of Amélia (by Raja) and Rico, an approved 5-star merit stallion, a title held by few Lusitano horses, demonstrating proven bloodlines in terms of Grand Prix potential as well as morphology.

Fogoso is a gold medal winner in Lusitano morphology events and he is a 4-star recommended breeder by APSL (Associação Puro Sangue Lusitano – Lusitano purebred Association).

Fogoso is a 10-year-old Lusitano stallion with a strong Grand Prix curriculum for such a young horse.

He achieved the second best place of the Portuguese team in the European Championships 2019 in Rotterdam, scoring 71.786% for a 26th place overall. This result was a solid contribution to the Portuguese team qualification for the Tokyo 2020 Olympics, a historic mark, which had never been achieved before.

Fidalgo Horse Campline

LUSITANO STALLION

Fidalgo is a 1.71m brown Lusitano Pure Blood stallion bred at Torres Vaz Freire stud farm.

Son of Rico and Abetarda (Reboleira x Raja), Fidalgo has 3 out of the ordinary gaits having won at the age of 7, international young horse competitions with more than 76% that guaranteed him the prize for best young horse of that year, given by APSL.

Still at the age of 7, the horse won the São Jorge National Championship, beating a large list of renowned horses, and achieving grades above 70%.

When he moved to the Grand Prix he did not lower the level, and his first competition at that level earned him a 1st place with 72% at age 8.

He was also the winner of CDI3* Companhia das Lezírias at Grand Prix level with more than 70%. Besides distinguishing himself in the sport throughout all classes, Fidalgo is a horse with a winning morphology of several gold medals, having been the Champion of the stallion class at the International Festival of Purebred Lusitano in Cascais.
